

at AMS headquarters

Dr. Glenn R. Hilst, editor of the JOURNAL OF APPLIED METEOROLOGY, Mrs. Catherine Placek, and Mrs. Margaret Murphy, all of The Travelers Research Corporation, Hartford, Conn., met at AMS headquarters on 4 June to discuss editorial procedures for JAM.

On 5 June Executive Director Spengler was in Washington, D. C., for discussions on M&GA matters.

The AMS Board of Admissions met at headquarters on the 10th. Present were Chairman Charles H. Pierce, Dr. Arnold A. Barnes, Jr., Prof. Delbar P. Keily, and Dr. Wayne D. Mount.

On the 11th Mr. Spengler returned to Washington, this time for consultation on the plans for WESCENT (U. S. Weather Services Centennial).

The AAAS social committee for the December meeting in Boston held a meeting at AMS headquarters on the 13th. Attending were representatives of Arthur D. Little, Inc., the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the New England Conservatory of Music, and the Education Development Center, Inc., Newton.

On 15 June Mr. Spengler left for Los Angeles, where he visited UCLA on the 16th and 17th for the opening of an AWS-UCLA orientation course, conducted by Gordon B. Weir and Louis Kolb, and visited with Prof. Morris Neiburger and other staff members of the Department of Meteorology. On the 18th, he went to Seattle for discussions concerning arrangements for the 9th Conference on Agricultural Meteorology with Prof. Leo Fritschen of the University of Washington. He also discussed fund raising with Prof. Phil Church. He then looked over the facilities of the Olympia Hotel and the Washington-Tower Plaza as possible sites for the 1971 annual meeting.

From Seattle Mr. Spengler went to San Francisco on the 19th to meet with President-Elect Bollay, John C. Beckman, Charles Pennypacker Smith, and Past-President Battan concerning fund raising and events connected with the 50th Anniversary Meetings. He returned to Boston on the 20th.

The newly elected officers of the Greater Boston Chapter met at AMS headquarters on the 27th to plan the chapter activities for the 1969-1970 season.

On 30 June Major General Giorgio Fea, director of the Italian Air Force Meteorological Service, visited AMS headquarters. General Fea, who is also professor of aeronomy and aeronautical meteorology, University of Naples, and lecturer on mechanics and thermodynamics of the atmosphere, Institute of Atmospheric Physics, National Research Council of Italy, was making a State Department tour of meteorological facilities in the United States.

Other visitors in June included: Robert F. Boucher, Sheraton Corporation, Hyannisport; Henry D. Robinson, Pensacola, Fla.; Mrs. Emily Taylor Ellis, South Hampton, N. H.; Jean Paskel and Alan A. Smith, Arthur D. Little, Inc., Cambridge; Andrew Parkman, Boston Symphony Orchestra, Boston; Gunther Schuller, New England Conservatory of Music, Boston; Kevin Smith, Education Development Center, Newton; Kenneth R. Cliff, Allied Paper Company, Boston; Gertrude Borchers, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Arne Sletterbach, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio; James Sandberg, Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, San Francisco, Calif.; Samuel S. Seward, Rapid Service Press, Boston; David Ames, Quincy; John H. Clark, Pick Hotel Corporation, New York, N. Y.; William I. Town, National Newman Foundation, Washington, D. C.; Kjell Carlberg, Vindelm, Sweden; Monte Glovinsky, Weather Bureau Bedford; Lt. Col. James F. Church, AFCRL, Bedford; Patrick J. Harney, AFCRL, Bedford; Dr. Edward M. Brooks, Boston College, Boston; Robert Padovano, U. S. State Department, Washington, D. C.; M. C. Stewart, Northeastern Forest Fire Protection Commission, Ashburnham.

Certificates for Professional Members

Any Professional Member who wishes to have a certificate of membership showing that he has been elected a Professional Member of the American Meteorological Society may request one from the Executive Director, American Meteorological Society, 45 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass. 02108.

Code of Ethics

Any member who wishes to have a copy of the Code of Ethics suitable for framing may request one from the Executive Director of the American Meteorological Society.

Now available

AMERICAN METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORY

Complete alphabetical listing of members and their mailing addresses as of June 15, 1968, including a geographical listing of members.

For Members only
$4.00

American Meteorological Society
45 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. 02108