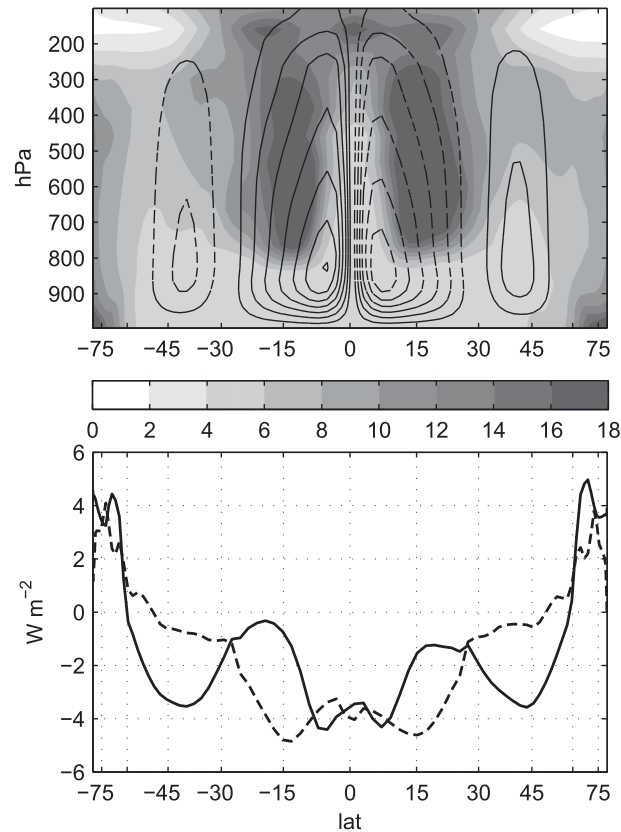

FIG. 8. (a) Zonal-mean change in fractional specific humidity, relative to a 1-K warming and fixed relative humidity, averaged over 9 months (filled contours). Contour lines show streamlines for control climate. (b) Two estimates of the nonlinear term (W m^{-2}). Nonlinearity is due to interactions among and within clear-sky feedbacks (solid) for the same time period as (a). Plotted for comparison is the residual nonlinearity (dashed) of Fig. 5.
